

Your heart beats for innovation and sustainability? JOIN US NOW!

In Quantron innovation and experience work together every day towards a more sustainable mobility. In our company you will find a flexible working environment with a unique high level of motivation. We have a fast-paced, exciting, and collaborative culture where you will have the possibility to quickly implement your ideas, with a low level of hierarchy and bureaucracy.

Head of Quality Management (m/f/d)

Full-Time

Key Tasks:

- Quality contact person (m/f/d) in the development process
- Release Q-Gates in the project
- Moderate process, product and process FMEAs
- Release control plans (QM plans)
- Perform root cause analyses and definitions of sustainable remedial actions and risk assessments (8D officer)
- Plan and execute product and process audits at the supplier's site
- Perform PPF procedures, R@R performance tests and process acceptances
- Responsible for product quality of purchased parts
- Operational handling of supplier complaints
- Collaboration in quality projects across business units
- Responsible for quality planning and implementation according to APQP / VDA 6.3 / customer specifications
- Responsibility for customer projects in the area of supplier management with the technical expertise in the area of production or process engineering

- Coordination of quality topics and measures depending on quality and corporate objectives with relevant interface partners from the individual business units, other series support teams and other specialist departments
- Quality control in vehicle projects through collaboration in the R&D team
- Collaboration in interdisciplinary teams, e.g. project teams
- Collaboration in problem and error analyses during the start of series production in cooperation with relevant interface partners
- Development of proposals for lessons learned or quality requirements for future vehicle projects
- Regular reporting, if necessary escalation of relevant issues as well as communication of customer quality, supplier quality and plant quality to all operational areas
- Internal and external quality contact for the assigned projects (new and series)
- Coordination and creation and implementation of APQP elements (PFMEA, Control Plan)
- Review design and process validation
- Responsible for the product quality of the responsible product area in the series phase
- Reporting to Chief Operation Officer and the Board of Directors

Requirements:

- Studies and further qualification as technician (f/m/d) or master craftsman (f/m/d) or comparable technical studies in the automotive/electronics industry
- 3-5 years of experience in a comparable position in the automotive/electronics industry
- Auditor training as system auditor / process auditor (f/m/d) VDA 6.3
- Very good knowledge of German and English, both written and spoken
- Communication and ability to work in a team
- Negotiation skills, convincing, friendly and customer-oriented appearance
- Willingness to travel
- Knowledge of quality assurance procedures and QM tools
- Experience in the application of specific procedures of advance quality planning (e.g. APQP, PPAP, FMEA; SPC; MSA; CPK analyses)
- Experience in the areas of testing and measurement technology, quality assurance, material analyses, handling of standards
- Knowledge of common Q-tools (8D, Ishikawa, 5 Why, MSA, MFU etc.)
- Enjoyment of continuous improvement of products and processes
- Team player
- Confident appearance with suppliers and customers as well as assertiveness
- Willingness to travel for national and international projects
- In-depth knowledge of development, production and testing processes
- In-depth technical knowledge in the field of electronics, electronics and software

Why us?

- We work on sustainable mobility
- Combining expertise with passion you can quickly grow with us both in terms of skills and responsibilities
- For us Teamworking comes before hierarchy and approval process
- Flexible working schedule

We consider diversity as a crucial ingredient for our growth. As an equal opportunity employer, we base our talent acquisition decisions on skills and experience. What we value is energy, courage, and reliability. We look forward to receiving your application and learn something more about your story.

Join now the e-revolution in passenger and cargo transportation! 2022 is the year to #GROWWITHUS!

Send us a detailed application including a curriculum vitae and motivation letter to hr@quantron.net.

Want to know more about Quantron? Follow us on social media!

www.quantron.net